

Contacts: Todd Bass, Colorado Children's Campaign cell: (303) 803-0909
Chris Watney, Colorado Children's Campaign (303) 620-4529

EVENT ADVISORY

CANDIDATES FOR HOUSE DISTRICT 56 TO ADDRESS CHILDREN'S ISSUES AT PUBLIC MEETING ON THURSDAY IN EAGLE

Candidates for State Representative for House District 56 will join the Colorado Children's Campaign and community members on Thursday, September 25, from 3:30 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. at Starbucks at Eagle Ranch Village, 1160 Capitol Street, Eagle, to discuss their ideas and positions on addressing children's issues in Colorado, including children's health, education, and child welfare.

The event is being sponsored by the Colorado Children's Campaign, Every Child Matters and Great Education Colorado, which have joined together to form the "Put Kids First" coalition, which is focused on educating candidates and voters on children's issues throughout this election season. Candidates participating in the event are Christine Scanlan, Democrat, and Ali Hasan, Republican, both candidates for State Representative for House District 56.

"This is an opportunity for voters to learn more about where candidates stand on issues that impact not only our children, but the future of our state," said Megan Ferland, President of the Colorado Children's Campaign, a statewide, nonpartisan advocacy organization and one of the event sponsors.

- WHAT: DISCUSSION WITH CANDIDATES TO FOCUS ON CHILDREN'S ISSUES
- WHO: Sponsors: Colorado Children's Campaign, Every Child Matters and Great Education Colorado
- Featuring: Christine Scanlan and Ali Hasan, Candidates for HD 56
- WHERE: Starbucks, Eagle Ranch Village
1160 Capitol Street
Eagle, Colorado
- WHEN: THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 2008 3:30 TO 5:00 P.M.

WANT MY VOTE?

www.PutKidsFirstCO.org

Put Kids First's mission is to promote policies that improve the well-being of Colorado's children by informing candidates for elected office about the needs of children and the policies that can most effectively address them and involving communities in the effort to elect candidates who will be champions for children's issues.